KLUX ASSAILED IN POLITICAL DISCUSSION

Our Town

Lack of definition of the issues before the people of Texas may lead to forfeiture of better judgment in daeling with the candidates and their platforms. Primarily the issue before the people is whether visiable or invisable government will supercede and whether the rights of those who oppose the Klan may be respected and their guarantees under the constitution made forever secure. Those who pass these questions off lightly without attaching to them their just measure of importance are truant to good citizenship and without consciousness of their responsibility to a free government. We are in the midst of a great social and political strife testing whether the order of freedom shall survive or succumb to the spread of intolerance and unwarrated discrimination bred by the spirit of bigotry and of shameful ignorance. The right of every man to hold public office regardless of his views; the right to a trial by jury; and the right of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," are questioned. Recent developments in Texas call the voters to a consciousness of /their responsibility in these matters and suggest a hearty participation in the coming primary.

The enforcement of traffic laws has become and important factor in the administration of the penal code in this country. Abuse of the public highways and abuse of the public streets has come to be regarded as smacking of disregard for law and of possible laxity on the part of the officers. It is clearly the duty of every officer of the law to prohibit as nearly as poissibe the violation of the law in any respect for in none of the liberties we have do we find so many latent dangers as operating automobiles nor in the misuse thereof so many fatalities. Speeders who persist in the violation of the law—and there are many who do—should be dealt with as befitting the nature of the offense and the consequences attendant upon the extremeties to which such disregard for the law will lead. It is not compromising to say this law is difficult of enforcement and with the ordinary process of administration it is unfair to say that the officers should stop it. What the officers need is co-operation and additional appropriation if necessary to properly patrol the streets and roads.

One hundred and forty-eight years ago our forefathers "brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created free and equal," and are imbued with "certain inalienable rights, among these life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Approaching the natal day of American independence we should turn for inspiration to the faith of the fathers who fashioned that we should perpetuate these conceptions of liberty by maintaining this heritage of government in the spirit of its conception. Not in discord or intolerence, hatred and distrust, such as we find entrenched in this land of the free. It is in contravention to every principle of the declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States that there should exist invisable government, social and political discrimination and religious intolerance for "all men are created free and equal,' and of the guarantees of liberty under the constitution such intolerances as we find in existence today must surely becloud the ardor of all good Americans. There should be no discrimination against any man because of his religious or political views for in the causes that gave to this nation its constituent elements of greatness are gathered the simple, yet great principles of liberty and if it were not so we would not love America.

EMIL KUZEL IS BURIED IN CORINTH CEMETERY

WAS NATIVE OF COUNTY AND BELOVED CITIZEN AND 28 YEARS OF AGE.

Emil Kuzel, of Buckholts, died at the Cameron Hospital in June 22. 1924, and he was buried at Corinth cemetery on June 23.

He was taken sick last March, and in the latter part of April went to Temple and had his tonsils removed. Still suffering, on May 15, he went to the Cameron Hospital for treatment, remained there some ten days, returned to his home near Buckholts for about three weeks, and then went back to the hospital about one week before his death. On last Tuesday an operation was performed for the purpose of relieving the brain of some pus that had formed there, and on last Sunday at about 7:30 p. m. he passed away.

Emil Kuzel was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kuzel, long time residents of Milam county, and he was born near Corinth, in this county, on February 21, 1896. On December 20, 1922, he was married to Miss Millie Kamenicky, and their marriage was blessed with a baby girl, now about nine months old. He is survived by his widow, his parents, and four brothers, John, William, Henry and Louis Kuzel.

Deceased had lived all of his life in this section, and his remains were borne to their last resting place from his residence not far distant from the home in which he was born. Deceased was a young man of many desirable parts. In character and reputation he ranked high among those who knew him, and he had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. In disposition he was pleasant and suave, and was possesed of a capacity and inclination for industry that promised to carry him far along the road to success had he not been removed almost at the threshold of his manhood.

That Emil Kuzel had a host of friends and acquaintances was evidenced by the large concourse at his funeral, and the many floral tributes that were laid upon his grave.

To the bereaved wife of deceased to his parents, to his brothers and other relatives the heart of this entire community goes out in sincere sympathy. May He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb comfort them in this hour of their sorrow, and assuage the poignancy of their lamentation.

A Friend.

Debate Over Klan Issue At Milano Defines Line Of Political Cleavage

Reading from the scriptures and quoting both state and national constitutions to prove the Klan both an un-Christian and un-American organization Judge W. G. Gillis of Cameron opened the three hour discussion of the Ku Klux Klan in politics at Milano Saturday afternoon and was heard by more than 200 people who stood banked about a store front and overflowing into the streets with the judge speaking from the plank gallery of the building.

What the crowd lacked in size it made up in enthusiasm for the mixture of people was both pro and anti on the question. Rain earlier in the day kept many people away from the meeting and during the speaking rain fell in intermitant sprinkles while the clouds hung low over the little junction town that in all its history, perhaps, had not witnessed such a political gathering.

The Ku Klux Klan imported a speaker from Waco who was introduced to the crowd as Prof. Stewart who is at this time studying in Baylor University. He said that he had been a school teacher for a number of years and said that he had been on the platform in a number of states speaking for the Klan. In the course of his speech which was for one and a half hours duration, he said that he was in Oklahoma while Jake Walton was fighting the Klan and that on one occasion was shot three times through the window of his home as he sat with his wife and children. This he explained resulted from his having made an arrset of I. W. W. who had pjut on a campaign of arson in that state. When he made the arrest he was commanding men in the National Guard of Oklahoma and was a Lieutenant.

Klansmen from Cameron, Gause and Rockdale were at the meeting as well as anti-Klansmen from these places. Considerable heckling was heard from the crowd as alternately the speakers aroused their hearers.

Judge Gillis began speaking at about 3:45. He opened in behalf of T. W. Davidson for Goverror whose record he praised and whose stand on important issues he said made him the logical candidate for governor.

Turning from a discussion of the candidacy of Mr. Davidson he took up the question of the Klan in politics as well as its record. The Judge made the assertion that the Klan is un-Christian and un-American, substantiating his argument by the reading of scriptures, a portion of which were taken from the sermon of Christ on the Mount, contained in the fifth chapter of St. Matthew. By way of comment upon the words of Christ the Judge declared Klansmaders are not merciful, pure in heart nor peace makers, whom Christ defined as blessed.

Turning from the scripture quotations the Judge read extracts from the constiution of the state and nation, laying particular stress upon the bill of rights. He then launched into a discussion of the record of the Klan which he declared had left in its wake the lash and the tar bucket, its symbols of crime. Answering directly the claim that the Klan had never been proven guilty of the crime of flogging, he quoted the records in the Burleson case in Williamson county and also of the pleas of guilty entered by Klansmen in the Goose Creek cases.

Religious intolerance was scored by the Judge in an interesting excerpt from history dealing with the early settlement of America and the religious persecutions of Europe and America.

Judge Gillis said that a minister in Cameron resigned his place with a local church because it was demanded of him tha the join the Klan. While he was reciting this Dr. Jas. Watson, cyclops of the Cameron Klan went to the platform and whispered something to the Klan speaker. The Judge remarked that "it must be hurting, he is up giving him some dope." Dr. Watson fired back a reply to the effect that he was telling the speaker of another case in Cameron where a minister was obliged to leave because he was a member of the Klan. The crowd laughed and Dr. Watson returned to the ground.

Nothing was said, however by the Klan speaker about the matter. Prof. Stewart made notes on the speech of Judge Gillis and when he arose to speak had considerable difficulty getting away from his notes but finally launched into a defense of the Klan. His talk was spiced with stories that kept the crowd in good humor. At no time did he defend Zeke Marvin or any of the other leaders scored by Judge Gillis but confined his remarks to a discussion of the Klan and for what it stands, reading its oracles of faith. It was the usual Klan speech, setting forth that it was composed of 100 per cent Americans, white and protestant. In the course of his remarks he said that

T. S. HENDERSON SPEAKS IN ROCKDALE SATURDAY

WILL DISCUSS KU KLUX KLAN IN POLITICS AND FOR WHIT DAVIDSON FOR GOV.

Saturday afternoon June 28 at 3:30 p. m. Hon T. S. Henderson of Cameron will speak in Rockdale in behalf of T. W. (Whit) Davidson for Governor and will discuss the Ku Klux Klan in politics.

Rockdale at one time had the strongest Klan in Milam county and it is conceded today to be the outstanding center for Klan strength in Milam county.

The address of Mr. Henderson is a part of the county wide campaign being undertaken by Democrats who are urging an end to Klan rule and to defeat their candidates at the polls.

On last Saturday Mr. Henderson spoke at Buckholts for Davidson and against the Ku Klux Klan. At the same time W. G. Gillis spoke at Milano.

It is expected that a large number of both Klan and Anti Klan sympathizers will be on hand to hear the speech of Mr. Henderson. This has been the case of the four speeches that have been made in the county.

RETURNS ON 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN REPORTED TO CONVENTION—$21,000,000 MORE NEEDED.

NEW PROGRAM PROJECTED

Dr. C. E. Burts of South Carolina Named General Director—Dr. McDaniel Heads Convention.

Dr. GEORGE W. McDANIEL, New President Southern Baptist Convention.

Up to May 1 Southern Baptists had contributed in cash on their 75 Million Campaign, the five-year program for the extension of their general missionary, educational and benevolent work, the sum of $53,832,852.79, leaving a total of $21,167,147.21 to be raised between now and the end of 1924 if the original goal of $75,000,000 is attained, it is announced by the general headquarters.

Aid Diversified Farming

A state bank of Granville, North Dakota, that is encouraging diversified farming among its farmer patrons, has purchased some purebred sires for the benefit of its customers. The bank realizes the necessity of good sires for the dairy herd, and has set aside a certain amount of money to be used in having a man look up animals and ship them to Granville.

Bankers of Lee County, Mississippi, are employing a dairy trained expert to give his whole time to the development of dairying. His salary and expenses are paid by the banks of the county in propertion to their deposits. This expert helps to arrange for loans to purchase cows, sees that the farmers have shelter and feed to care for the cattle, and advises with them in figuring out rations and in determining what crops to grow. He makes special engagements to attend scrub bull funerals.

And Yet They Say The Klan is Not in Politics

The following is an extract from article appearing in The Cameron Herald of date June 20th

Ku Klux Making Fight To Control Democratic Machinery In the County

The Klan is making a fight for control of the Democratic Executive Committee of Milam county. The attitude of the Klan became public Saturday when 36 names were filed, one from each of the boxes included in the number, for places on the committee.

In addition the name of Jim F. Chadwick, as a candidate for the office of chairman for the county, was filed by Dr. Jas. Watson, cyclops of the Cameron Klan. Judge W. G. Gillis is now chairman of the executive committee for the county and will be opposed for re-election by Mr. Chadwick.

Dr. Watson, it was said at the office of the chairman, had received filings from different parts of the county. In all there are 46 voting boxes in the county. The Klan is backing 36 candidates and a chairman, enough to control the party machinery in the county if they win.

SOCIETY NEWS

BY MRS. JEFF T. KEMP

AN INTERESTING CASE.

An oustanding event for the week past was the announcement party given on Friday afternoon at 5 p. m. by Miss Susannah Jackson at her home in North Cameron for her friend Miss Nell DuBois.

Pink Texas Star flowers, which grow in profusion near Cameron, formed the attractive floral decoration of the home. These exquisite wild flowers filled cut glass vases, wall containers, and floor baskets and were used in artistic pink and white containers to center the game tables, which followed the pink and white theme in all appointments.

Upon arrival the eyes of the guests fell upon a suit case which was plainly marked as being the property of "Dan Cupid," and a conspicously placed placard bore the words: "An Interesting Case."

When all had assembled Dan Cupid's suit case was opened and score cards in the shape of tiny pink suitcases sealed with pink heart seals were distributed, each placarded "This case should be looked into."

Each case when opened was found to contain a hand painted announcement card bearing the familiar words from the marriage ceremony: "I, Wilson, take thee, Nell, July 15th." After congratulations to the popular honoree, 42 was the chosen diversion and progressions were marked by tiny pink heart seals on the suit cases. Tiny brides were given as 84 favors.

The refreshment course was pink brick cream in Cupid mould with angel cake squares in embossed icing. Plate favors were doll brides with tulle veils.

The hostess presented to the Honoree a hand embroidered guest towell and boudoir sachets attractively packed in Dan Cupid's suitcase.

The "Man in the Case" is Mr. Wilson Gunn, District Manager for the Magnolia Petroleum Company with headquarters in Cameron who has made many warm friends here. The bride elect, Miss Nell DuBois, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DuBois, is a musician of note and a valued member of the Cameron School faculty.

MORNING FORTY TWO PARTY.

Miss Ruth Coleman's 42 party Friday morning was a delightful hospitality for nine tables of guests who gathered at her home on Seconr Street for the hours of diversion.

The beautiful red sypress which grows luxuriantly in the woods near Cameron was effective in wall vases , baskets and jars to make the home attractive.

Miss Anna Lou Baskin, bride elect, was the honoree on this delightful occasion and resident members of her bridal party enjoyed the mornings pleasures.

Red punch was served during the games and at the conclusion red and white brick cream and angel cake squares were passed.

Among the out of town guests were Mesdames Ben Baskin and Law Henderson of Bryan, J. H. Eastland of Mineral Wells, Boyd Wells of Austin and Paul Jones of New York.

A LUNCHEON.

On last Thursday between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock Mrs. O. H. Griffin entertained with a two course luncheon. The honored guests were Mrs. John Easley, and Mr. and Mrs. Arlef Buckland of Port Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Acie Lander of Tyler.

BASKIN-WENDT.

A brilliant and notable event of the month of June was the wedding Tuesday night at the First Methodist church when Miss Anna Lou Baskin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Baskin, was given in marriage to Mr. Frank T. Wendt of Lomesa, Texas, with Rev. R. S. Marshall, pastor of the Cameron Methodist church using the impressive ritualistic ring ceremony.

The bridal vows were pledged in a setting of great beauty in which the pink roses predominated as the favored blossom. Ferns is profusion formed backgrounds for floor baskets filled with the chosen flowers. The chancel was a mass of green with Premier roses in vases completing the artistic altar arrangement. The pews set aside for the relatives were designated by tulle bows with pink roses and ferns.

The prenuptial music was especially beautiful with Mrs. C. W. Read at the pipe organ as accompanist, Mrs. C. W. Peyton sweetly sang "I Love You Truly, Dear." Miss Olive Henderson played on the violin "Meditation" from Thais. Mrs. Alex Triggs gave the bridal solo, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

For the processional Mrs. Read played Mendelssohn's Wedding March and for the recessional the Lohengrin Bridal March.

The ushers Messrs. Roy Baskin Vernon Roberts first took their places at either end of the chancel.

The bridesmaids wearing charming voile frocks over satin in rainbow shades, each carrying a golden staff topped with a matching maline bow and boquet of sweet peas in couples took their places inside the chancel rail to form the ideal setting for the rainbow wedding in the following graceful order: Miss Ann Wendt of Sherman, in blue; Miss Katharine Atkins of Llano in yellow; Miss Artie Hargrove of Sharp, in pink; Miss Bess Hanna of Georgetown, in Orchid; Miss Dallie Young of Cameron, in Blue; Miss Lurie Foster of China Springs, in Blue; Miss Elizabeth Beck of Taylor, in Pink; Miss Mary Nash Buttery of Llano, in Orchid; Miss Ruth Coleman of Cameron, in yellow; Miss Carmilla Tinsley of Georgetown, in yellow; Miss Clyde Baskin of Cameron, in blue; Miss Mary Young of Cameron, in pink; Miss Mary Alice Wilson of Elgin, in orchid.

Miss Rosalie Baskin, sister of the bride, Maid of Honor next entered wearing green georgette with silver accessories, carrying a beautiful arm cluster of Columbia roses.

Mrs. Ben Baskin of Bryan, Matron of Honor took her place looking regal in a creation of peach georgette with arm bouquet of Royal shasta daisies.

Two dainty little flower girls, Clara Baskin and Mary Ellen Cottle, in frocks of white georgette strewed pink rose petals for the path of the bride. The wedding ring was borne by Master John Lane Baskin clad in white satin on a satin cushion.

The bride entered with her brother Ben Baskin of Allen Academy, Bryan, who gave her in marriage.

The bride's gown was an exquisite model of white duchers satin with court train and trimmings of real lace and pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and wore a coronet veil which enhanced her blonde beauty.

The groom, Mr. Frank T. Wendt of Lomesa, entered the altar with his best man, Mr. Robert L. Carruthers of Tulsa, Okla., and received the bride from the arm of her brother.

Rev. R. S. Marshall in his most impressive manner gave the bridal vows using the beautiful ring ceremony.

After the wedding a reception for the bridal party and visiting friends was held at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Baskin.

An ice course was faultlessly served.

THAT $10,000,000 SAVING.

While Lynch Davidson is telling the audiences he is addressing in his tour of the State that he can save the tax payers $10,000,000 bienially through reduction of state expense, the other candidates for Governor are ridiculing his claim and declaring it impossible to reduce taxes. They base their assertions on the fact that the growth of the State will require larger appropriation and that there is little hope of tax reduction.

Of course, the rapid growth of the State will require larger appropriations of every character and unless expenses can be reduced or the increased values are sufficient to offset, taxes are more apt to go up than go down. Lynch Davidson does not propose to save the State money by reducing needed appropriations. He has never proposed that a single dollar be cut from the school appropriations, for instance,, but he does propose to eliminate waste wherever he finds it; to reduce exepnses wherever it is possible to reduce them without crippling services rendered the people; and above all, he promises a common sense application of first class business principles to the management of state affairs.

Brigadier General Dawes, whom the Republicans nominated for Vice President at Cleveland Thursday, saved the United States from $250,000,000 to $350,000,000 in one year's time as director of the budget. He did it by the application of business principles to government expenses eliminating waste, co-ordinating purchases, and other methods employed in all successful businesses.

We do not say that Lynch Davidson is another Dawes. Neither do we say that the opportunity for saving in the management of Texas' affairs offers the wide field that General Dawes encountered when he assumed office of budget director, for that was a time following the war, which brought expansion of an enormous character in every governmental agency. But business principles applied to Texas' affairs certainly should bring results satisfactory to every tax payer.

Lynch Davidson offers the first opportunity that Texas voters have had in many years for placing a successful and thoroughly capable business man in charge of the State's affairs. Regardless of what he can save, the opportunity of putting the State's business on a business basis and such a business man as he has shown himself to be at its helm, is certainly worth a trial.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

he had been informed that there is a law firm in Cameron that has a monoply on bootlegging cases. Klansmen cheered. He said that the klan would not take a great number of people in and that they are not welcome with th eCatholic or Jews and that association with the bootleggers is about the only place for them. Klansmen cheered.

Prof. Stewart ended his speech with a tribute to the flag which was unfurled before the crowd. Someone yelled for "hats off" and the speaker closed with words about the flag.

Judge Gillis was allowed twenty minutes for a rejoinder and he made a defense of himself and of his law firm to which he assumed the speaker had referred. Cheer after cheer greeted the Judge as he defended the right of trial by jury and the right of every man to have council no matter what crice he is charged with.

Quoting Billie Mayfield on the quotation from his paper that the Klan should "lay aside the lash and the tar bucket" he clinched his argument that the Klan had been guilty of these practices. He then gave a skit from a Klantauqua which he said was going to take place in Texas in which Zeke Marvin would sing a song entitled "Fifteen quarts in a druggists trunk, yo ho and a bottle of rum." John Mathis and Bill Hangar will sing "How Dry I Am.' Invocation will be said by Rev. A. A. Davis whose only immortal words now are "leave Burleson to me" and who may soon be practicing klancraft 'neath the shadow of prison walls. Rev. J. T. Rentfro whose identity runs back to pink lingerie found on the banks of the San Antonio river and whose search for funds for the Fred Roberts hospital in Corpus took him plum to Philidelphia with a manicurist, will close the Klantauqua with a lecture on the "protection of our pure womanhood." Applause in great volume was accorded the Judge in this closing remark.

The Opening Address of Hon. Joe Eagle, candidate for Congress of the Houston District, has the right ring to it.

Below will be found extract from his address which recently appeared in the Houston Chronicle

"I feel that our great district is entitled to a congressman who does not belong to the Ku Klux Klan, or who does not make terms with it to get its vote.

"I have no quarrel with the individual man who went into the klan in good faith as a fraternal order. But the audit of its accounts for the past fiscal year shows that while the klan took in $2,208,809, it spent for its fraternal benefits only $35,673—that is, it spent one dollar for fraternal benefits to each $62 it took in—the balance went to the graft of its bosses and politics.

"The Ku Klux Klan is by far the worst menace that has ever hovered over the country and people. It is a secret, oathbound political society. It does its work in the dark and behind masks. It conceals its membership. They swear to obey all orders, edicts and instructions of whatever kind issued from headquarters. They swear to report no crime, with three exceptions, that any member may commit. Its objects are simple and are very dangerous, although its members do not seem yet fully to realize it. One object is political control by themselves as a secret, oathbound political party; another object is that the bosses graft vast sums of money, and another object is that the local leaders here and elsewhere shall secure office. As klan office-holders they protect Klansmen. Experience in Harris County proves this is the result.

"The plain membership is allowed to pay the money, to vote as told, to be taught to hate all Jews, all Catholics, all foreign-born, and almost all others who do not join the klan. That is not what Christ taught and practiced, nor what is taught by the churches, nor what makes friendship and neighborly kindness among men.

"No other organization in America hides the names of its members. All lodges, churches, political parties, clubs, fraternal orders and societies, except alone the klan, are proud and willing to tell who belong to them. But the Ku Klux Klan hides the names of its members—they even deny they belong to it. That is, insincere and hence a bad thing for any citizen to do, and it is a bad thing for the country.

"Another aim of the klan is to monopolize all trade and profit—for they agree to boycott all persons not members.

"Their aim and practice is religious intolerance. There have been seas of blood shed all throughout history on account of religious intolerance. Surely it is not a good thing in America.

"Their aim is to monopolize all political power; to rule all of the people by themselves as a small group of the people. This is true although men have, from the very founding of America, taught and heretofore practiced the true doctrine which is that the general common good and not class advantage is the way by which free men can best be contented and prosperous.

"Their aim is to rule county by county and state by state until the whole nation is under their domination, with all men cowed to submit to class rule, and they try to ruin any man, politically, professionally or in business, who refuses to bow down to their dictates.

"And what is the result of their activities to date? The result has been to fill offices with incompetent men; to estrange friends of a lifetime from each other; to deny justice in the courts when the interests of the klan or of klansmen were at stake; to cause wreck and ruin to business by the boycott of non-members; to separate those who worship God into warring camps and antagonistic groups; to destroy the spirit of uity and fellowship in each and all of the Protestant churches whose members have been divided upon this troublesome issue; to bring discord into the fraternal orders; to make men distrust and suspect each other; to separate members of the same families; and to scatter hate and strife everywhere.

"I make the Ku Klux Klan one of the two main issues upon which I will run this race; the other being as above stated—the preservation of the liberties of the citizen and sovereignty of the state. There is not one single worthy object the klan states that it stands for that all good people did not already stand for—white supremacy, 100 per cent Americanism, separation of church and state. The difference is that the 100 per cent Americanism meant by the klan holds that no Catholic, no Jew, no Protestant non-member, no one born in other land—no matter how good and true the man may be—is or can be 100 per cent American; and instead of separation of church and state the klan tries constantly, and too often succeeds, to put church into politics so as to combine church and state.

"The klan has taken away many million dollars from the members and wasted it on the bosses. It has aroused class hatred, when all should live together in peace. It has made religious belief a test for office, contrary to the guarantics of the constitution. It has proven itself the most deadly enemy of the labor unions. It preaches and practices the ruinous doctrine of the boycott of all persons not members of the klan. It hides behind masks, conceals membership and identity, does its business in secrecy, lays its plans unknown to others and executes its orders with solidarity, acts as a unit, causes fear instead of trust and fellowship, and scatters discord. Its members take an oath to protect each other, at the expense of society in general and of the plain duty of citizenship first. It strikes in the dark. It has not even condemned those of its members guilty by confession in open court of the outrages of tar and feather parties and of beatings and mutilations. It ruins or tries to ruin all persons who do not bow down to its dictates. Thousands of good and well-meaning men have gone into it, on the plea that it was good for the country as an upholder of law, but surely they have had ample proof during the past three years, that it is nothing but a secret, oath-bound political society whose members are used to pay the money that goes to enrich the grafting bosses and to furnish the votes to put local managers into office and places of power. Surely the time has come when good men should quit it and thus be imposed upon no longer.

"If I am elected now, as you have been good enough to elect me heretofore, I will be and remain a democrat devoted and dedicated to the sound principles of our party—and not a puppet of any class or group. I shall have no personal interest to serve, no friends to reward, no enemies to punish. It will be, as I have been heretofore, the representative of all, the slave of none. We are one people, with one common destiny which can only be achieved by mutual concession, good faith, sincerity and common sense."—Adv.

T. W. DAVIDSON UPHOLDS CONSTITUTIONAL GOVT.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR CHEERED IN ATTACK ON INVISABLE EMPIRE.

T. W. (Whit) Davidson, candidate for governor, took the klan to task for its masked activities in Texas in an address to approximately 2000 people in Cameron on last Thursday night.

Mr. Davidson who has been acting governor on a number of occasions gave first hand information to Democrats here regarding the Sommerville disturbances in which the hooded order was charged with the slaying of Otto Lange as he sat talking with his family at twilight on the evening of July 2, 1923. It will be recalled that Mr. Davidson then acting governor sent investigators to Sommerville to establish the guilt of the crime and when these failed he sent the state rangers to that little city which he described as a town shadowed by a hooded menace.

Mr. Davidson had been charged by another candidate for governor as having a secret understanding with the Klan in Texas whereby he was to receive its votes. After the speech of Mr. Davidson no doubt is felt here among Democrats as to the falsity of that statement. He made his position clear upon this question.

He told of various investigations conducted by him while acting governor into floggings over the state, something more than a hundred, he said. He laid these crimes at the door of the Ku Klux Klan and cited as proof the pleas of guilty of Klansmen in the Goose Creek floggings and the conviction and sentence to the penitentiary from Georgetown a Baptist minister, Rev. A. A. Davis, for five years for perjury in connection with the trial of the Burleson case.

Burleson was a traveling salesman and was taken from an automobile, flogged, tarred and feathered and dumped out on the streets of Taylor. Testimony, he said, developed that the flogging of Burleson was discussed in the Klan and that Davis told them to "leave Burleson to me."

Mr. Davidson's address was a fine defense of constitutional government, dwelling at length upon the history of the settlement and subsequent government of America. He cited the constitution, particularly the bill of rights to prove the Klan an un-American organization.

A portion of his speech was devoted to criticism of Lynch Davidson for advocating no levy of Taxes on cut over lands in east Texas.

Regarding the agitation for tax reduction Mr. Davidson said that he believed a number of the departments could be consolidated and in this way effect savings. He said he would sell a large portion o fthe state farm land and work the convicts in the roads of the state. He wants to increase attention to Confederate Veterans and to the elemosynary institutions to take care of the insane now in the jails of the country.

He was introduced by T. S. Henderson. On the platform with them was W. W. Chambers.

In the beginning of the meeting which was held on the south side of the court house square, the band gave a concert. A large American flag furnished the only decorations except two large boquets on the speakers stand.

Friends of the Governor have assured him they will give him a plurality in the county and possibly may swell the vote for him to a majority.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

"Aunt Emmy," said Jane, "I wish you would make something clear to me. Last night Mr. Wilkins and Ted were talking about bonds. Mr. Wilkins said a lot about 'public utility bonds,' whatever that means, and seemed to think that they are the greatest things ever, so I thought maybe Ted and I might buy one with that $1,000 Daddy gave us for a wedding present, but I'd like to know more about them first."

"You have the makings of a financier, Jane," laughed Aunt Emmy, "since you have sense enough to stop, look and listen before you buy. I like public utility bonds, too—that is, good ones. They are bonds issued by corporations that serve the public with something useful, hence the name, public utility. The gas company, the electric light and power company, the telephone and similar companies are public utility corporations. Their business is based on real public needs. But it is also essential that they be well managed to be a good investment.

"Of course there are other bonds equally good. Always bear in mind that when you buy a bond you loan money to the corporation whose bond you buy. You do not buy a share of the business, as you do when you buy stock. The bond you buy bears interest, and this interest must be paid to you before the company can pay out a single cent in dividends. Nevertheless bonds must be carefully selected with the advice of someone who knows."

"How do you think one can know if a company is safe or not, Aunty?" asked Jane.

"Well, that is difficult. But I should say that if a company whose bonds you fancy has been doing a good business for ten years and has not failed to pay a dividend during that time the chances are that it will keep on doing as well unless something entirely unforeseen occurs. The best thing to do is to check up your own opinion with your banker. Once you have bought bonds in any corporation don't put them away and forget them. Seek your bank's advice from time to time and keep informed of the progress of the corporation you are interested in. If you see anything in the papers that alarms you in any way go at once to your bank and ask their advice about selling out and reinvesting in something else. Banks have facilities for keeping in touch with financial conditions, and they are always glad to help."—ANNE B. AYMES.

THE IMPORTANCE OF FOREIGN TRADE

For many decades we have produced a surplus of products of the farm that has been sold in foreign countries. As long as we continue to produce a surplus above domestic consumption, it is a prime necessity that there be a market for it. It is true that this surplus is but a fraction of our total production. Nevertheless, it exerts an effect upon the price of the entire output which is entirely disproportionate to its relative size. A country store-keeper may sell a hundred straw hats at a fair margin of profit, but the twenty which he may not be able to sell at all will wipe out the profit on the entire stock. The same thing is true of wheat, of corn, of any product of the farm.

It is true that we might exist without foreign trade, that we might depend exclusively upon domestic consumption. To do that, however, would require a complete reorganization of our whole commercial and industrial structure, a reorganization which would require years of time and which would entail losses beyond calculation. The more reasonable alternative is to take steps toward the restoration of a normal foreign market.—Walter W. Head, President American Bankers Association.

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

"PRUDENCE"

By FLORENCE MELLISH

(©, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

WHEN Amos Whiting told Hawkins to give Oscar French something on the Eagle, Oscar did not have the vanity to think it was wholly on account of his own journalistic ability. Oscar's father had been Amos Whiting's closest chum. But Oscar had a knack for writing, and he meant to make good.

"You'll have to take whatever Hawkins gives you, even if it doesn't happen to suit your taste; then, fly and by, you may get something different."

"We're swamped with sub reporters already. But if Whiting—see here, you may have 'The Twilight Hour.' Mrs. Starkweather is laid up indefinitely. You give advice to girls, discreet and sensible, but sympathetic. See? Your desk is over there by the window. I'll send you some of Mrs. Starkweather's files so that you can get her drift. Your signature will be 'Prudence Kenworthy.'"

"But—isn't that a lady's name?" Oscar gasped.

"Of course, and you want to be ladylike and refined, you know. No rough stuff and no slang. You'll soon get the feminine touch."

"Great Caesar!" groaned Oscar French. "I don't want to get a feminine touch. I want a man's job."

Hawkins turned a curt shoulder. "That's all I have for you now. You can take it or leave it."

Young French set his teeth. "I'll take it."

"Oh, you'll like it when you get started, especially when the personal letters come in. But don't try to answer many of them. It's a waste of time."

Young French strode over to the desk by the window and buried himself in Mrs. Starkweather's files. He began his uncongenial task with grim determination, and soon had the satisfaction of feeling that at least he was equal to it. When some waggish reporters left an offering of camellias and maidenhair ferns with a box of chocolates on his desk he placidly dumped the flowers into the wastebasket and ate the candy with ostentatious relish.

Oscar's manly determination to get the feminine touch was a success. He soon out-Prudenced Prudence herself, and the personal letters poured in assuring Miss Kenworthy that she was "better and better every day."

The personal letters! He did enjoy them, though he followed Hawkins' advice and answered few of them. But he did write personally to Georgie Goodale. Georgie wasn't sentimental or whiny, and she had some "pep." She lived in Martinville with her aunt Rachael. Aunt Rachael was a dear, but she wouldn't let Georgie do anything that the other young people did, and she was opposed to Georgie's studying law.

"Dear Miss Kenworthy," Georgie wrote, "your letters are a comfort and an inspiration, too. The twilight hour is the best in my day. But I'd give my new camera for a talk with you face to face. Now you like fishing; you said you did. Back of our cottage is a wonderful trout brook, and Aunt Rachel's luncheons are gorgeous. Can't we make a date?"

Oscar French caught at the idea. He did make a date with Georgie. He laughed at the mirrored image of his fisherman's costume in anticipation of her surprise. He looked forward like a schoolboy to the tete-a-tete and the good fishing and Aunt Rachel's "gorgeous luncheon." But when he actually stood on the platform of Marshville station he scanned the faces of the women waiting there, half dreading to meet Georgie.

"I have lots of freckles and look like a boy," she had written. He failed to identify the buoyant and vivacious Georgie in the middle-aged and jaded-looking group. A lanky, freckled youth encumbered with fishing tackle, was watching the women who alighted from the train.

"I'm looking for Prudence Kenworthy," he announced impersonally.

"Hello, Georgie," called a genial employee, who was carrying leather mailbags.

Oscar faced the freckled youth.

"That's one of my names."

The freckled youth grinned. "I'm Georgie. The joke's on me," he added magnanimously.

"No, it's on me," French insisted, not to be outdone. "You have the freckles, at any rate. Is there a real trout brook?"

"You bet your life there is! and a cloudy day like this—oh, boy! Come on, partner, and we'll show 'em."

"I'm glad you aren't a lady," Georgie confided to his companion when the wicker baskets were nearly full. "I was beginning to have cold feet."

"So was I," French acknowledged.

"Well, it's time for luncheon, and Aunt Rachel promised to make a peach short-cake. I guess she'll have chicken salad, too."

They tramped across the fields and approached the cottage from the back.

"There's Aunt Rachel in the doorway," cried Georgie, who was striding ahead in the narrow path.

Oscar looked over Georgie's shoulder. That union of girlish grace and womanly poise? Why, Aunt Rache was peaches and cream!

"Luncheon's ready, Georgie," she called and vanished.

Georgie waved his guest up the broad, low stone steps. Oscar French drew in the fragrance of hot coffee and short-cake and, passing through the low vine-wreathed doorway, he followed Aunt Rachel like hope.

WHY BANKS?

LESSON IX

By J. H. PUELICHER, Chairman
Public Education Commission, American Bankers Association.

What means has a savings depositor to prove that he has deposited his money in a bank? A person leaving his money as a deposit in a bank is given a pass book.

J. H. Puelicher

PASS BOOK—A small account book in which is written down by the bank a complete record of the deposits and other credits, the withdrawals or debits and the depositor's balance.

DEPOSITS—Money left with the bank by the depositor or some one for him creating a credit.

CREDITS—Items representing deposits or other amounts which are credited, that is, added to the customer's account; interest earned by his money is also added to his account from time to time by the bank and is a credit just as money actually deposited by him.

WITHDRAWALS—Money drawn from the bank by the depositor, or by some one duly authorized by him to do so, creating a debit.

DEBITS—Items representing amounts withdrawn which are subtracted from the depositor's balance.

BALANCE—Difference between credits and debits.

It is best to deposit savings in a bank because your money is safe; it earns more money; a systematic record is kept; it stimulates more savings and your money is always available when required.

Dr. M. W. SHERWOOD

As a result of a campaign waged by Dr. M. W. Sherwood of Temple, State Commander of the American Legion, the State Textbook Commission has authorized the teaching of "Flag Etiquette, in the public schools. The standard flag rules are to be made a part of the civics textbooks.

Aid Diversified Farming

A state bank of Granville, North Dakota, that is encouraging diversified farming among its farmer patrons, has purchased some purebred sires for the benefit of its customers. The bank realizes the necessity of good sires for the dairy herd, and has set aside a certain amount of money to be used in having a man look up animals and ship them to Granville.

Bankers of Lee County, Mississippi, are employing a dairy trained expert to give his whole time to the development of dairying. His salary and expenses are paid by the banks of the county in proportion to their deposits. This expert helps to arrange for loans to purchase cows, sees that the farmers have shelter and feed to care for the cattle, and advises with them in figuring out rations and in determining what crops to grow. He makes special engagements to attend scrub bull funerals.

BANKERS DIRECT WAR ON CROOKS

Rising Crime Wave and Attacks on Banks Called Forth Increased Measures of Defense.

Criminal activities against banks have reached unprecedented proportions in recent months, according to a report made to the American Bankers Association by its Protective Committee, which directs the work of the Association aimed to combat criminal operations against banks.

"Sharp increases in crime perpetrated against banks definitely prove that instead of being broken the crime wave has risen to heights heretofore unknown to the banking fraternity," the report said. "Strangers continue to trick or otherwise inveigle unsuspecting banks into making generous contributions to their cause—a terrific toll which defies the imagination. Bank burglars and hold-up men have apparently redoubled their activities during the last six months. The number of criminals plying their trade in this field has grown to such proportions that there is now a fair sized army comprising this more desperate type of criminal, specializing against banks."

"Don't cash checks for strangers," is the warning emphasized by the Committee in view of the situation. It adds:

"We are gratified to report favorable results in a good proportion of cases investigated, which are due to the nation-wide activities of our detective agents through their staff of specialists in bank crimes. In Montana two fearless, well organized bands of professional yeggmen attacked more than a score of banks with such reckless abandon that the situation seemed beyond control. Realizing that conditions demanded prompt and drastic treatment, a trained crew of operatives were delegated to conduct a special investigation throughout the state. Nineteen men and two women were arrested. Of these four already are serving sentences, three are on trial, four are awaiting trial and the rest were freed for lack of evidence.

"A similar round-up was carried out in Oklahoma. Conditions in other states similarly bad were investigated and with the co-operation of local, state and federal authorities and the co-ordinated activities of members the percentage of arrests and convictions has materially increased."

The report pointed out that figures covering bank burglaries over a period of thirty years showed that 1,609 banks, members of the Association and entitled to its protective services, have been attacked, suffering losses aggregating $1,196,000, while non-members to the number of 2,357 were burglarized and suffered $4,250,000 in losses. The point was also brought out that there are only half as many non-members as members, so that these losses among them represent an excessively high rate as compared with members.

RADIO AND ITS WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITIES.

There has never been a time when advantages offered for anything were greater than it is now for Radio expetts and operators. Radio has developed more than sixteen times over within the last twelve months. This has created a demand for operators that cannot properly be supplied at this time. These operators are in demand by the U. S. Government, by commercial and business houses and by Radio and electrical concerns. Not only is there a demand for Radio Operators but there is also a big demand for Radio Salesmen and experts. In order to be a good Radio Salesman, one must know Radio in every particular.

From all over the world comes the call for men trained in Radio. Never has a field offered such glorious opportunities—both on land and sea. And now, in a few weeks, you can easily fit yourself for these positions. The key to the best-paid position in radio is the Government First Class Licenses. Every operator on a ship, in a commercial land station, or in a broadcasting station, should have it. This license is the Radio Expert's degree. It opens up to him all the wonderful opportunities of his profession.

You can easily qualify within a very short time by taking a Complete Radio Course in Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas. This School is equipped with both receiving and broadcasting station. Call for broadcasting station is WOAF. That station and the department is in charge of a Government license operator, and will prepare its students for the examinations.

Frank E. Conley, a graduate of their Radio Department, is now on board U. S. Ship California as a radio operator Mr. Conley spent three months in their department.

Messrs. J. E. Hunter, and Marion C. Mead, have just been issued commercial licenses, having satisfactorily passed the Government Examination in T. C. C. Radio Department, April 21. Neither of these young men were in school more than three months. Many others have successfully completed the courses of Radio and have accepted responsible positions as radio operators, Salesmen, etc. You can do what others have done.

Do not hesitate to enter the field where thousands of wonderful positions are open. The course of Radio may be taken alone or in connection with courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Administration and Finance, Telegraphy, Penmanship, Civil service, or Cotton Classing.

The thoroughness of courses is indisputably proven by their enrollment of over 4000 annually for the past five years. No inferior school has ever built up and held as large a patronage as Tyler Commercial College. Business men recognize their graduates as capable, which is proven by the fact that they call on the school daily for graduates to take positions in their offices. Hundreds have been placed with each of several large concerns.

Fill in and mail the coupon below for "Achieving Success in Business." This large free book tells how thousands have prepared for business and of the opportunities open to YOU.

PRESBYTERIAN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

One hundred and fifty thousand dollars is all that stands between the Presbyterian educational institutions of Texas and the receiving of $1,650,000 for Christian Education in Texas. This was the announcement made by Dr. S. W. McGill, at Presbyterian educational headquarters in Dallas today.

The Texas Presbyterian Educational movement was launched just a year ago for the purpose of securing $1,650,000 for the ten Southern Presbyterian educational institutions in the synod of Texas. After twelve months of aggressive work the committee in charge reports that $1,500,000 has been subscribed leaving the sum of $150,000 yet to be secured. The amount that has been subscribed is payable on the condition that the remaining $150,000 be subscribed as no subscription are binding until the full amount is subscribed payable within four years.

"It remains to be seen" said Dr. McGill "whether Presbyterians and friends of Christian education in Texas will see more than one million dollars lost to Texas for the lack of the comparatively small sum of $150,000." It is understood that the field has been practically covered and the campaign is now about to be closed. The beneficiaries of the campaign are Austin College, Sherman; Daniel Baker College, Brownwood; Texas Presbyterian College for Women, Milford; Presbyterian Orphans Home, Itasca; Austin Theological Seminary, Austin; the University Church at the State University; Tex-Mex Schools for boys and girls.

This is said to be the largest thing ever undertaken by the Presbyterian church in any State and the outcome is awaited with great interest.

How Often Do You Use Your Telephone?

Do you use your residence telephone often enough to warrant the expense of a "one-party-line?" Consider the number of hours that your line is not in use, and you will probably conclude that a "selective-ringing" telephone would handle your traffic just as well—and at three-fourths the expense.

By sharing your line with another subscriber you not only save money, but you enable the Telephone Company to add more telephones to the exchange—and thus make your telephone more valuable. For the value of your telephone increases in proportion to the number of other telephones you can be connected with.

In other cities where "selective-ringing" service is offered, residence subscribers finds that this service satisfactorily meets their needs.

LYNCH DAVIDSON IS FAVORITE OF TEXAS EDITORS

Houston, Texas, June 21.—Lynch Davidson, candidate for governor, predicts a victory in the first primary with a vote of432,516 as against a total of 267,387 for all his opponents combined, representing clear majority, according to an announcement made at Mr. Davidson's Houston office.

His calculations, he explained, was based on a prospective poll of 700,000 in the coming primary, the figures as quoted based on the straw ballot taken by delegates to the Texas Press Association at Amarillo which had shown: Lynch Davidson 76, Robertson 21, T. W. Davidson 13, Collins 7, Barton3, Pope 2, and Mrs. Ferguon 1, out of a total of 126. The same ration he said, would give the resultant total of Lynch Davidson 423,516, Robertson 119,511, T. W. Davidson 73,983, Collins 39,747 Barton 17,073, Pope 11,382 and Mrs. Ferguson 5,691.

"Never have the newspaper editors of Texas missed their forecast of a gubernatorial election when expressed in this manner," declared Lynch Davidson, "and the poll they have taken is their prediction that Texans this year are going to vote for unadulterated, rock-ribbed democracy; that ismless democracy handed down to us from generations. And when the resulting returns from the work of my countless thousands of zealous friends throughout Texas is reported, my vote of 432,000 will be swelled immeasurably."

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.' By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BEWARE OF THE RAILROAD CROSSINGS; 11,000 ARE KILLED IN UNITED STATES.

Do you know that in six years 11,379 persons were killed and 30,522 injured at railroad crossings in the United States? Eighty per cent of the accidents at such places involve occupants of automobiles.

In this country there are over 256,362 railroad highway crossings. To eliminate all of these now is not only a financial but a physical impossibility. A conservative estimate of the cost is $19,000,000,000. Eliminations are being made, and will continue as rapidly as circumstnces will permit, but the net result cannot be changed materially as there will be additional crossings as new lines are built.

The immediate remedy is for every driver to "Cross Crossings Cautiously." The railroads are again engaged in a "Careful Crossings" campaign, and are making every effort to see that all employes concerned give special attention to the proper performance of their duties in that connection. But if crossing accidents are to be reduced to a minimum, similar precaution must be taken by the general public.

According to Isaiah Hale, safety superintendent of the Santa Fe Railway, this can be accomplished if automobile drivers will observe the following simple rules:

Slow down when approaching a railroad highway crossing; a train cannot be stopped in a few feet but an automobile can.

Look both ways and listen to ascertain if a train is approaching.

Be particularly careful where there are two or more tracks, because of trains moving in opposite directions.

Exercise good, conservative judgment at crossings; keep car under control.

Take the safe course; in case of doubt, stop before reaching track.

Chills, & Stomach Trouble

MR. N. A. SMITH, of Shaw, Miss., says he can't remember being without Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine since he and Mrs. Smith began keeping house, many years ago. "When we have chills," says Mr. Smith, "Black-Draught is what we use and we find it just splendid. I had a bad case of stomach trouble. I couldn't eat enough and was very weak. Everything I ate hurt me, formed gas and I spit up my food. I would feel stupid or staggery. I didn't feel like doing any work. I knew what Black-Draught had done in colds and I began taking small doses. I certainly got relief. It did me lots of good.

Mrs. Jim Ferguson Leaves Home For Tour To Clear Jim's Name

Temple, Texas, June 25.—Case-hardened and kiln-cured though he is in the political school of hard knocks, seasoned politicians who have played fast and loose with Jim Ferguson in his heydey and in his gray day will tell you that when one mentions his impeachment an closs of citizenship, big, aggressive, militant Jim will slump himself down in his nearest chair and have a good cry.

And they're not crocodile tears, either. Jim Ferguson would rather be governer of Texas again, or hold it by uxorial proxy, than to fill his house with terasure. It is the thing he wants most of all man's multiple desires.

And that explains why his wife, Miriam A. Ferguson, has stepped from the domestic seclusion of home life into the spotlight of the political arena. Vindication She wants Jim's vindication. And only by becoming the first woman governor in history and the first woman chief executive of the largest state in the union, can she achieve it, she declares.

"For Jim's sake."

That's her explanation of why she has undertaken the campaign she has just begun.

"Jim wants another chance," she said in her first campaign interview. "But every door is closed to him. Every door is closed to the people who want to help him. But I have the right to appeal to the voters for the vindication of our family name. For such has been his lot and as his wife it is my burden as well.

"I hope, therefore, that our friends all over Texas will see that I am forced into this contest."

Mrs. Ferguson is a motherly woman, domestic, devoted to home and family. She has grown daughters of her own and a grand young grandson. It is for that boy's sake as well that she would be the means of her husband's vindication.

Some of these days he will grow up to a man and maybe he might want to run for office and serve his country," she said. "Should he run and somebody points a finger of scorn at him and says, 'Your grandfather was impeached by the senate of Texas,' I want my grandson to be able to say, 'Yes, and as a rebuke to that impeachment that denied my grandfather the right to go to the people, my dear grandmother was elected governor by the people of Texas—the first woman governor in the world."

The Ferguson's wants to hand down an untarnished name to their children and their children's children. That's a grandmother's reason for running for governor.

There is no high political inspiration leading her on into the race. She frankly admits she knows nothing of politics.

"If I'm elected," she ventures, "Jim will help me give the people of Texas the best administration that our ability, tempered with love and gratitude, can produce. I've not adopted the platform Jim stood on before they ruled his name could not go on the Democratic ballot."

And thats how Mrs. Ferguson is going to handle the technical political angle of the campaign—standing on Jim's liberal platform. He will be her chief adviser, the power and the executive mind behind the gubernatorial throne in event of her election. There is no deception on that score.

"Speaking candidly," she acknowledges, "I have never taken a great deal of interest in politics. I have voted only a few times. Only the utter necessity of carrying the family gonfalon moved me to emerge from the quite and peace of my home."

Recalling the unhappy time when the senate imeached her husband for misappropriation of funds, Mrs. Ferguson said:

"In the passion and frenzy of the hour of Jim's terrible ordeal at Austin it appeared that his removal was not sufficient and it was decreed that for all time to come he must forfeit the sacred right to citizenship—the right to serve the people. There is but one more sacred right, and that is the people's right to select their servant.

"While my husband suffers not the discomforts of a fellon's cell, I know that in his mind he suffers ten thousand times as much. And I have done my best to cheer him on because I know he is conscious of no wrong and his consuming ambition is to be of service to his fellowman."

That is why a woman is asking the people to make her their chief executive, to break a precedent as old as time, to confer on a woman that which heretofore has only been given to man.

But that prospect doesn't awe her. The chance that she may become the ruling hand at the helm of the greatest state in the union doesn't throw her into a nervous chill or induce symptoms of hyseria.

"A woman can be governor just as well as a man," she opines. "Some would make better governors. We-ed and they're inherently honest. Of men are generally pretty levelheaded course, if she listens to the wrong kind of advisers she might make as many mistakes as a man. But woman has an unerring intuition."

She doesn't consider that woman in the state house at Austin would be a novelty. There's always been a woman in the state house. She was there herself with Jim.

"And if any governor's wife isn't his adviser he makes a mighty poor governor," she contends. "So why should not a huband advise his wife if she is governor?"

As for a woman governor "handling" the legislature, composed wholly of men, Mrs. Ferguson says this:

"No male governor has been able to handle them. I can do as first rate a job as some of our more recent governors. And they'll have to be considerate of a woman, if they're to prove thmselves gentlemen."

There was a humorous twinkle to her eyes when she said that.

It is nigh unto impossible to draw her out on political principles or policies. She prefers to let Jim speak for her on such weighty matters. Jim is the politician, not Mrs. Jim.

However, she went far enought to say that she opposes capital punishment, save in extreme and particularly abhorrent cases of murder. She, like her husband is ag'in the Ku Klux Klan.

"They serve no useful purpose and stir up strife," she commented.

She believes in equal rights and woman's suffrage. In fact, Jim's principles are her principles. Upon his platform she will stand.

Mrs. Ferguson will make no extensive stumping campaign. Her strength, limited and to be conserved, will not permit a statewide speaking campaign. Jim will attend to that in the usual Fergusonian manner.

"Jim ought to be vindicated," Mrs. Ferguson mainains. "If any wrong was done, God in heaven knows we've suffered enough."

"Amen, Miriam," says Jim, with an effectionate pat on her hand. And then he exudes confidence and optimism.

"All my friends will vote for her just as they would have voted for me. This is a rare opportunity for a woman to be governor of Texas."

Regardless of the outcome, "Farmer" Jim can be depended upon to make an interesting and hectic campaign stumping here, there and everywhere in behalf of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson.

And who knows? He may have the honor of being the first governor's husband.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Milano Candidate For Office Says Warned To Stop Attacks On Klan

Milano, Texas, June 23.
Editor Herald:

Well, we went down to Gause on last Saturday week where we found a big crowd of people anxiously awaiting to hear Judge T. S. Henderson, who made a masterly address filled with logic and reason.

The Klan had a man there to reply to Mr. Henderson, but the old wind-jammer, who had more gall than brains made a very poor effort. The bed sheet brush-beater soon run out of soap.

The crowd then called for Judge Gillis, and as Judge Gillis mounted the rostrum this Klan defender made for the brush. His name was Slaughter, and he is certainly leading the Klan to the political slaughter pen on the 26th of July.

Oh, this wonderful aggregation of white-robed "angelic hosts" who proclaim to be the only 100 per cent Americans, with their councils filled with gamblers and bootleggers with their grand dragon and supreme dictator indicted and convicted for selling whisky, fine bunch isn't it. Well, Judge Gillis tore up the argument of this "government saver" like a bull dog would tear up a rag roll. They stress their argument on the pro question, which has been settled by state and statue, while their leaders are as wet as the Pacific ocean.

Again on last Saturday at Milano Judge Gillis made one of his characteristic speeches and a man by the name of Stewart from Arkansas tried to reply to him but he didn't even make one point in defense of the Klan. On the 20 minutes rejoinder Judge Gillis tore off his political mask and showed up the trickery and corruption of the Klan. As I said in a former article the Klan is the worst menace that ever hovered over or debauched a state or nation. Their claim that it is not a political organization is false. Old Evans, the grand cyclops recently said in an article in the press, "I solemnly affirm that the Klan is not in politics". He told a falsehood when he said it. It started out as a political organization with an iron hand policy of rule or ruin. They hold their secret political meetings in the dark and plot to rule or ruin any man or firm, professionally, commercially or otherwise that does not submit to their diction. It has broken up churches, severed family ties and caused more strife and discord than any organization that ever disgraced a nation.

The learned professor in reply to Judge Gillis said they picked their members that joined the Klan. Well, I notice that they have "picked" a lot of gamblers and bootleggers, and some of the dirtiest two legged animals that ever disgraced this fair land of ours. But they call them 100 percenters.

Now Mr. Editor I want you to published a nice little note I received this morning. It reads like this: "Milano, Texas, June 21, 1924.—B. F. Gibson, this is to notify you that you must stop talking and working against the Klan, or move at once. We don't want any more of your dope, fair warning." A committee of the Klan, by a member of the Klan'.

Oh, yes, they are in favor of freedom of speech and the press aint they. this ignorant, cowardly, cringing, pussilanimous cur, tries his dirty hand at intimidation and threats to try to suppress thought, speech and action.

We are not going to move, and not until our hands are palsied and our lips are pale with death will we cease our activities for what we deem to be the best interests of our county, state and nation. So do-your do, and get busy when you feel like it.

In conclusion will say, the best way to suppress this growing menace is at the polls on the 26 of July. Every Klansman that can get there will be there. We have got to meet the issue, and if the anti Klansmen can be awakened to the necessity of making a sacrifice if necessary, one and all, to go to the polls and cast their vote, the victory is ours.

Wake up people and do your duty.

Yours in the fight to finish,

Will give you a few dots from this section.

BANKERS DIRECT WAR ON CROOKS

Rising Crime Wave and Attacks on Banks Called Forth Increased Measures of Defense.

Criminal activities against banks have reached unprecedented proportions in recent months, according to a report made to the American Bankers Association by its Protective Committee, which directs the work of the Association aimed to combat criminal operations against banks.

"Sharp increases in crime perpetrated against banks definitely prove that instead of being broken the crime wave has risen to heights heretofore unknown to the banking fraternity," the report said. "Strangers continue to trick or otherwise inveigle unsuspecting banks into making generous contributions to their cause—a terrific toll which defies the imagination. Bank burglars and hold-up men have apparently redoubled their activities during the last six months. The number of criminals plying their trade in this field has grown to such proportions that there is now a fair sized army comprising this more desperate type of criminal, specializing against banks."

"Don't cash checks for strangers," is the warning emphasized by the Committee in view of the situation. It adds:

"We are gratified to report favorable results in a good proportion of cases investigated, which are due to the nation-wide activities of our detective agents through their staff of specialists in bank crimes. In Montana two fearless, well organized bands of professional yeggmen attacked more than a score of banks with such reckless abandon that the situation seemed beyond control. Realizing that conditions demanded prompt and drastic treatment, a trained crew of operatives were delegated to conduct a special investigation throughout the state. Nineteen men and two women were arrested. Of these four already are serving sentences, three are on trial, four are awaiting trial, and the rest were freed for lack of evidence.

"A similar round-up was carried out in Oklahoma. Conditions in other states similarly bad were investigated and with the co-operation of local, state and federal authorities and the co-ordinated activities of members the percentage of arrests and convictions has materially increased."

The report pointed out that figures covering bank burglaries over a period of thirty years showed that 1,609 banks, members of the Association and entitled to its protective services, have been attacked, suffering losses aggregating $1,196,000, while non-members to the number of 2,357 were burglarized and suffered $4,250,000 in losses. The point was also brought out that there are only half as many non-members as members, so that these losses among them represent an excessively high rate as compared with members.

MAJ. HARRY P. JORDAN ADDRESES MASONS HERE

SAYS HE IS A STATES RIGHTS DEMOCRAT IN DISCUSSING CAMPAIGN.

Major Harry P. Jordan, candidate for State Senator from this District visited Cameron on the 24th the occasion of which was to deliver an oration at the joint Instillation of the Masonic Lodges of Milam county. Major Jordan's subject was "Masonic activities in the establishing of the public free schools in Texas." It was a very interesting address. He discussed masonry and how it stands for not only building schools, but they are builders of homes, builders of character and good citizenship, and gave the detail historical facts of the beginnning of the public free school system in Texas which show that it was started and pormulgated by the Maons and Masonic bodies of Texas.

Major Jordan said for the campaign after the meeting: "I wish you would tell the people of Cameron and Milam county that if elected to the State Senate, unless instructed by the voters of this District I will vote against the adoption of the 20th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States known as the Child Labor Amendment, because first: I am opposed to the encroachment of the Federal Government upon the State Rights and Police Powers of the individual soverignty of the State. Too much of that is already being pressed down upon us, the 18th Amendment has already turned the Federal courts into a petty court of bootleggers where low fines and weak penalties are given and the liquor traffic goes on as brisk as ever, and prohibition enforcement the way it is being handled is a failure. We have a wise and just child labor law on the Statute book of Texas. I am a State Rights Democrat and belive the people of Texas can enact good laws for their conduct with their fellowman. The very Constitution of the United States declares for local self government for the individual soverignty of the state. Why should Maine or Nebraska tell us "What we shall eat, what we shall drink, or wherew.thall shall we be clother." I am opposed to amending the Constitution too much as often as some whim of a polititions vents itself upon the people. Don't you read in the daily press of the present day of the advocacy of a Constitutional amendment placing the sacred matter of marriage and divorce in the sole jurisdiction of the Federal Courts, and when that comes my brother of the Southland and Texas the Negro question will again bob up with its hydra head and bring consternation to our happy and prosperous people. But notwithstanding my personal views upon any political measure whenever the majority of the people of my District and State instruct me to vote upon such measure I shall loyally discharge that trust as I have heretofore done. I believe the legislator or congressman who votes against the instructions of his people betrays that honorable trust and is no more worthy to be their representative.

INDEPENDENCE

The succession of great events in America has carried us on in the trend to a greater independence. On July 4, 1924, we will pause in our daily works to reverence the memory of Washington the father of his country, and to recall with pride as Americans all that his character typifies in American traditions.

For the veterans of the World War we will also think with kind devotion for their sacrifices in defending the freedom and the liberty of America given to us by the fathers. And to all veterans of all wars be the glory of the republic.

There is another independence that is important and that is financial independance and what better guarantees of independence will you find than the facilities of a good bank properly used.

Banking your money is a step in the direction of independence. Then this bank will help you. Nothing gives us more satisfaction that to be of service to you.

CAMERON BOY, WRITER OF VERSE, RECOGNIZED

MAX REYNOLDS CONTRIBUTES POEMS TO "LARIAT" AMONG TALENTED POETS.

Friends in Cameron of Max Reynolds will be interested in his successes as a writer of verse. Some time ago the Herald published some literary criticisms by Mr. Reynolds and also a poem in tribute to Woodrow Wilson entitled "My Chieftain."

The Herald has procured a copy of the Lariat publication in Dallas that contains a number of poems by Mr. Reynolds and takes pleasure in presenting them to Cameron readers.

Here are the poems appearing in this publication:

MY MADONNA.

Eyes, sparkling with tenderness and love—
A voice of gold and silvery tones—
Warm lips—forest, rich and green
Is my Madonna in sorrow—and in pain.

I AM A WATER LILY.

I am a water-lily,
Flowing to and fro
Dipping my wings
Into the water
And bathing my eyes
In the morning's gold.

TO—

Peacefully sleeping
Is the world
But wakeful
And restless
Am I.
For I am one of
The dreamers
Who never wake—at night.

SNOWDROPS.

I opened my mouth wide
And softly, swiftly
Came down a snowdrop from Heaven
Straight from God into my soul
It went.
And, somehow, I had a message
From God
In that snowdrop.

FIRST MAN OF TEXAS.

The pioneers of Texas were men—
Real men, God-give nand God-made men;
Men who could work and fight,
Even though they were imprisoned in a cell
With vermin, worse than hell!
And thrashed and bled
Until the blood came—red!
They had but one passionate desire
With which their soul was afire
Liberty.

MISS OLIVE HENDERSON IN RECITAL.

Responding to daintily engraved cards of invitation issued by Mrs. E. A. Camp early in the week, a large and brilliant assemblage of Rockdale's music-lovers gathered at the Camp home at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at which time the hostess presented Miss Olive Henderson of Cameron, in violin recital, assisted by several local musicians in voice and piano.

The spacious Camp home was adorned with quantities of blooming roses from the beautiful rose-garden which is a feature of this Rockdale home, the music-room opening into the reception suite making this an ideal place for such entertainments.

Mrs. Camp, altho a business and professional woman, is herself a patron of the fine arts, and a musician of ability, being a member of the Matinee Musical Club and a pupil of Prof. Medsker on the violin. Hence it was eminently fitting on this occasion, that she should sponsor the beautiful and charming young musician in violin recital.

As the guests arrived the door was opened for them by the little daughter of Mayor and Mrs. H. C. Meyer, each guest being seated in the audience room by Emory Camp, Jr., and presented with a printed program and a fan.

Seldom has a more brilliant audience been assembled in a private home in Rorkdale than on this occasion, the summery costumes of the ladies affording a fitting background for the flower bedecked reception rooms and wide stairway as the hostess presented the program which was opened by Mrs. J. Q. Baldridge in a Liza Lerman voice number, "There are Fairies at the Bottom of Our Garden," with Mrs. L. W. Sledge as her accompanist, followed by a piano number from MacDowell, brilliantly executed by Mrs. L. W. Sledge. The sweet limid voic of Mrs. D. C. Wallace was next heard in a selection, "Nirvania," with Mrs. C. M. Perry as accompanist.

The presentation of the artist, Miss Henderson, was greeted with applause as she appeared with her accompanist Mrs. Mary Henderson Strickland, of Coolidge, Texas. Her first number included the Polonaise in A Major from Hans Sitts, Meditation from "Thais," the well-known number by Massenet, and a brilliant Mazurka from Mylnarski, all being marked with the accuracy of touch, desision of bowing and delicacy of nuances which indicate the finished performer on the violin, that master of instruments, and more akin to the human voice than any other instrument.

As an interlude on the program, Mrs. P. H. Perry gave the famous Shubert Serenade, playing her own accompaniment with realistic effect of the guitar. Miss Henderson's second group comprised the Legende from Weininanski, the Souvenir from Drdla, and the Spanish Dance from Redfield.

Of these the Weininanski number was perhaps the most effective, the double notes of the violin giving the effect of two or more instruments, the legato passages being smooth as running water, while the pizzacato notes were soft as fairy bells.

This young artist assuredly has a future before her, in the realms of her art, and her friends and admirers predict for her a brilliant career. She is a graduate of the Baylor College for Women, having studied with Prof. Kenneth Wood of the Violin department of Baylor Belton. Rarely has a performer made a better impression upon a discriminating audience and Mrs. Camp is to be congratulated upon bringing into Rockdale musical circles this promising young musician.

During the afternoon, both before and following the program, the spacious porch was thronged with the guests as they partook of delicious fruit punch served by Misses Eleanor Phillips and Flora Sharp.

Out of town guests to the Musicale were Mesdames H. H. Camp, W. H. Camp and daughters and Mrs. Hoyard Ameson and daughter of Austin; besides a large number of friends of the hostess from her old home town, Cameron including Mrs. T. S. Henderson, Miss Winnie Henderson, Mrs. James W. Coleman, Miss Sallie Coleman and several others whose names we did not learn.

Assisting througout the afternoon in her entertainment, was Miss Sallie Kate McLane of Cameron, the charming young niece of the hostess.—Rockdale Reporter.

Miss Louise Green visited in Austin last week and was accompanied home by her sister, Miss Pauline, who is attending summer session of the State University. Miss Pauline returned to Austin Monday afternoon.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION WANTS SUPT. APPOINTED

SAYS LAW SHOULD BE AMENDED TO CHANGE MANNER OF SELECTION.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 23.—County school superintendents are elected by votes of the large independent districts, with whose schools they have nothing to do. This is the basis of the considerable demand developed in every section of Texas this year that the next Legislature be asked to amend the school laws so as to allow the county board of education to select a superintendent on a professional basis, even as do the city boards.

This demand is coming especially from the people of the rural sections, who realize that they are not having a voice in the selection of the county superintendent, since they are outnumbered by the votes of the independent districts. The rural people do have a direct voice in the election of the county board of education, however, and they want this board to select the superintendent.

Letters from candidates for the State Legislature received during the past few weeks by the Texas State Teachers' Association officers in Fort Worth, favor by a large majority the election of the county superintendent by the county board, and indicate that the patrons of the rural schools are making the demand. The teachers have sought to make this change for ten years, as a part of their program of raising the standards of their own profession.

Advocates of the proposed change in the law point out that at present the people have no choice but to elect one of the candidates in the field, whether or not anyone is qualified by training or experience for the position. Independent districts, on the other hand, consider applicants until they are satisfied that they are getting a strong superintendent.

County engineers, and other officers of whom professional training is demanded, are selected by boards. The same right is being asked by school people who want to make a special study of rural school needs with a view to making that their life work; which they hesitate to do under the present conditions. It would make the responsibility more direct, and would encourage better individual work on the part of the superintendent, if he were engaged by a board with powers to employ and dismiss him according to his success or failure. At present, the county superintendent can hardly be displaced until he has served for his two years—and even then he may be reelected by people who know nothing of his work.

Thousands of rural people move to the city for a part of every year, so that they may give their children advantages of a school developed by a superintendent chosen on a professional basis. They are faced with inadequate schools, in most instances, in the rural sections. Many of these good people never return to the rural pursuits, and the children seldom do. If professional leaders were employed to direct the education of these youths in their own communities, there would be a better satisfied rural population, for it could stay at home and see its children receive the advantages they have a right to enjoy. This would preserve the unity of the rural population, and encourage better conditions in every respect.

Students of rural problems say that the educational justice for the rural poulation can come only through shaping the program of their needs. They point to the need for assuring this by chosing the county superintendent by the county board—which is actually representative of the people.

FLAG RULES TO BE TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS.

DR M. W. SHERWOOD

As a result of a campaign waged by Dr. M. W. Sherwood of Temple, State Commander of the American Legion, the State Textbook Commission has authorized the teaching of "Flag Etiquette" in the public schools. The standard flag rules are to be made a part of the civic textbooks.

Temple, Texas, June 24.—Within another year or so the proud American who wants to be patriotic on July 4 and takes his family out to see the Big Parade, may find one of his children nudging him and whispering to him to lift his hat with his right hand and place it over his heart as the American flag comes sweeping by in the procession.

That observation was made here on June 14th by Dr. W. M. Sherwood, State Commander of the American Legion, who has been advised that standard flag rules are to be taught in the public schools of Texas as part of the course in civics. Under the leadership of Commander Sherwood the Texas Department of the Legion carried on the campaign to bring about teaching of the flag etiquette in the schools of Texas.

"It will be a glorious day for Texas," said State Commander Sherwood, "when all of our children learn the accepted rules for draping and paying proper respect to Old Glory on all occasions, and just as soon as they begin their studies of these rules in the public schools they will put their newly acquired information to good use by assisting their elders in decorating floats and buildings for patriotic occasions.

"All of us are loyal citizens. We would fight for our country at the drop of the hat, if necessary. But few of us have ever been told that we should lift our hat and place it over our heart as the national colors come by in parade, and that is the reason so few of us do it.

"If I could send a Fourth of July message to the people of Texas I would say, let us begin now to help our children learn the flag rules they are going to study in school later. When the flag comes by in parade, the man should lift his hat and place it over his heart. The woman should place her right hand over her heart. All should remain quiet until the colors have passed."

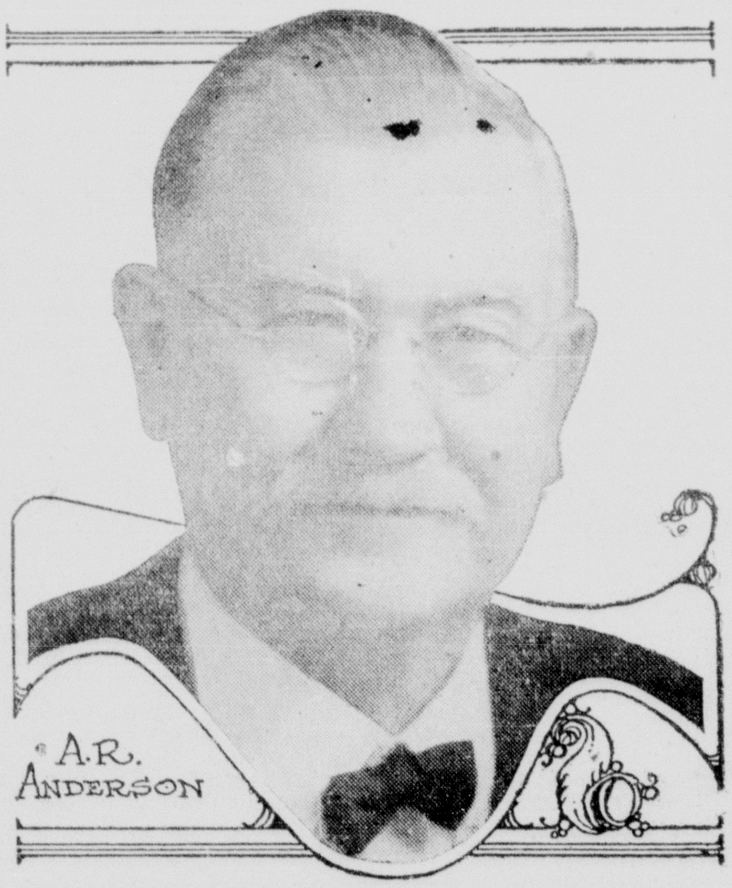
EX-SHERIFF ANDERSON GIVES TANLAC CREDIT



MAN WHO HELD PUBLIC OFFICE OVER 27 YEARS SAYS MEDICINE RESTORED HIS HEALTH AND STRENGTH 5 YEARS AGO AND HAS HELPED HIM KEEP WELL.

"I said a lot in praise of Tanlac some six years ago, but not half enough, in view of what it did for me," is the high tribute paid the famous medicine, a few days ago, by Hon. Archie R. Anderson, ex-sheriff of Harris count, Texas, who resides at 1505 Austin St., Houston.

Mr. Anderson is unquestionably one of the best known and most popular men that ever held public office in the "Lone Star" state. After serving as deputy sheriff of Harris county for 12 years, Mr. Anderson was elected chief of police of the City of Houston. He had occupied this office but a short time when the sheriff of Harris county died and Mr. Anderson was then appointed by the Commissioner's Court to serve out the unexpired term of sheriff. He was honored with re-election as sheriff seven different times and served the people in this important office 15 consecutive years.

In 1912 Mr. Anderson declined reelection and retired to private life. He cast his lot among the people of Houston and is a large property owner and formost citizen of this city Speaking further of his experience with Tanlac, Mr. Anderson said:

"Before taking Tanlac I was all run-down and had no appetite. I had the worst form of indigestion and could not eat fried foods or pastries at all. I suffered all the worst sort of neuralgic pains, and nothing seemed to help me only in a temporary way, until I took tanlac.

"Then I read the statement of a Georgia sheriff, who had been relieved of troubles like mine, I just felt like I couldn't go wrong by taking Tanlac, and it has done even more for me than I expected. I felt better after the first bottle and the complete treatment of six bottles made a new and different man of me. I never felt better in my life than I did after taking Tanlac. And although five years have passed since Tanlac straigtended me up, my health has continued good and my stomach as sound as a dollar to this good day. I am glad to endorse Tanlac because it does the work and does it well."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

DEMOCRATS WILL SEE DOCUMENTS BY WILSON

MEMORANDUM OF PRINCIPLES WILL BE LAID BEFORE RESOLUTION BODY.

Baltimore, Md., June 24.—A copyright dispatch from a staff correspondent at New York to the Baltimore Sun Friday says that "Woodrow Wilson's last political will and testament—a document of party principle and policy—is to be laid by a group of his followers before the members of the resolutions committee when the time comes to write the Democratic platform."

The "memorandum,' as it is called takes this position on foreign relationships:

"Straight-out and straightforward membership of the United States in the League of Nations and an abandonment of a 'farcical' policy of 'unofficial observation.'

"Adherence of this Nation to the permanent international court of justice, under the auspices of the league, and with no nullifying reservations.

"On domestic matters, the former President and his political associates agreed upon these policies:

"A liberal attitude toward prohibition, but with law enforcement whatever the law may be.

"Revision downward of Federal taxation as radically and as rapidly as the state of the Treasury will permit.

"A careful and scientific revision downward of the tariff to promote foreign trade and to prevent the exploitation of the many for the aggrandizement of the few.

"Relief for the farmer by granting to him additional credit when needed.

"Re-examination of the whole transportation problem by Congress looking toward lower rates and with the possible creation of a new department of transportation having representation in the Cabinet.

"A direct declaration for religious freedom, the separation of Church and state, and the condemnation of any sect or order which would openly or covertly impair any religious right."

The document, the correspondent says, was drafted by Mr. Wilson a few months before his death, in collaboration with eight or nine of his closest friends.

In the group were Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, former Secretary of War; Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, Senator Claude A. Swanson of Virginia, Norman H. Davis, former Under-secretary of State; Bernard M. Baruch of New York, David F. Houston, former Secretary of Agriculture, and later Secretary of the Treasury, and Frank I. Cobb, now dead, for many years editor of the New York World.

SENATOR ROBINSON HAS A FIST FIGHT ON GOLF COURSE.

Washington, June 20.—Two versions were floating over Washington today of a fist fight between Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader inthe senate and Dr. Joseph F. Mitchell, surgeon, which occurred yesterday on the golf links of the Chevy Chase club.

The clash was brief and in its course Dr. Mitchell was struck once and fell to the ground.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana; Andrieus Jones of New Mexico, and John B. Kendrick of Wyoming, were playing with Senator Robinson, while Edward Clifford, former assistant secretary of the treasury, and his son, accompanied Dr. Hitchell.

Those who took the part of Senator Robinson said the trouble occurred after the Mitchell party had been held up from coming through the green on the twelfth hole, on which the senatorial foursmoe was playing. At that time Senator Walsh was searching for a lost ball. A member of the Mitchell party, it was said, called for permission to pass through and it was granted. On the way to the next tee it was added, some sharp words were passed on the subject of golf etiquette.

When the thirteenth tee was reached the feeling had progressed to such an extent that the two men came to blows.

Clifford's version was that the three-some in which he was playing was help up too much by the four ahead and that he had stepped up to tell Senator Kendrick that no offense had been intended when Senator Robinson and Dr. Mitchell came together. He added that he held Dr. Mitchell while Senator Walsh took charge of Senator Robinson when it became necessary to separate combatants. Play then continued.

Dr. Mitchell last night said he had no comment to make while Senator Robinson said the incident "was to be regretted."
